Carl DeMaio Investigations

(San Diego) EDITORS: San Diego Police Chief Shelley Zimmerman released the following statement today.

“Both the alleged burglary to Carl DeMaio’s campaign office and the allegations of sexual misconduct against Carl DeMaio were taken seriously and investigated thoroughly by the San Diego Police Department. The highest level of confidentiality was maintained during the entire investigative process, and will continue to be maintained, to protect the integrity of each investigation. We have been working cooperatively with the DA’s Office and these investigations have remained open and active. Today, the District Attorney’s Office has concluded their prosecutorial review.

“I’m extremely proud of the professionalism exhibited by the officers and detectives involved in this sensitive investigation. Although both cases were thoroughly investigated with every lead followed, we encourage anyone who might have additional information related to either case to contact the San Diego Police Department.”

No further comment on these investigations will be made at this time.
