

eBay Statement

eBay's PAC, the Committee for Responsible Internet Commerce, supports candidates that believe in the open Internet as a platform for innovation, commerce and economic opportunity for people worldwide. eBay Inc. believes it is important to disclose our lobbying and political activity in a clear and transparent fashion, and we make this information available on our Main Street site (<http://www.ebaymainstreet.com/us-political-contributions-disclosures>). The company does not comment on the personal activities and contributions of our executives and employees.

- Amanda Miller, eBay Spokesperson